

HINTS FOR A BRIDE

Some Rules to Govern Small Society Weddings.

ON THURSDAY AT HIGH NOON

If You Wish to be Fashionably Married—What the Bride May and May Not Wear.

Here are a few rules, positive and negative, for the brides that will blossom in June:

If you want to be fashionably married, choose Thursday at high noon or at 4 in the afternoon.

Your bouquet must be white—orange blossoms if the express company delivers them in time and in fit condition. White orchids have the second place of honor and white roses the third.

White carnations are the proper favors for the heads of the horses.

The wedding party, with the exception of the bridegroom and his best man, assemble in the waiting room at the entrance to the church. The procession starts when the clergyman has entered the chancel and the bridegroom and his the palms. Occasionally Queen Anne pineapples and Reipe pines, two especially fine varieties of this fruit, may be found in market this month. These are the most familiar varieties of the hot-house pineapple and are special favorites of the London markets. But as these choice pineapples cost from 40 to 50 cents apiece they are too expensive for cooking or preserves.

The strawberry pineapple, in spite of its acidity, makes a very good compote and is nice for desserts. For a compote peel the pineapple and cut it in slices about a quarter of an inch thick. Remove the core. Make a syrup of a cup of sugar and a cup of water. Let it boil for about five minutes. Pour it hot over the sliced pineapple and let the fruit steep in this syrup well covered for twenty-four hours. Then drain the pineapple and boil down the syrup for ten minutes more, until it begins to thicken. Pour it hot over the pineapple again, and when the dish is cold serve it.

A great many desserts may be made from the strawberry pineapple, and it is often considered better for this purpose than the sweetest sugar-lion pine, which possesses the advantage of being much cheaper. For a pineapple compote, prepare the pineapple, clean it, core it, and otherwise make ready for a compote. Have a shell of nice pastry spread with a little apple sauce—just enough to glaze the crust. Fill the pie-plate with pineapple and orange strips of pastry across. Bake the pie about forty-five minutes in an oven quite hot for the first fifteen minutes, and a very little more moderate for the first half hour. When the pie is removed from the oven dredge it with powdered sugar and set dresses to toilets designed for the most elaborate occasions.

A Denver housewife has an Indian princess doing her housework. The young woman is the daughter of a Pawnee chief, and her name in English is Rose Howell. She was a student for many years at the Carlisle school.

Some of the rich brocaded skirts are wholly untrimmed, and in making these handsome skirts the silk lining and crinoline are cut in breadths exactly like the outside, sewed up together and then silk faced.

The latest novelty is the umbrella covered with shot silk to match any gown; and these are finished with hand embroidery either jeweled or in Dresden china the color of the covering.

The English Woman's Year Book, in its review of woman's work, states that the demand for women lecturers on almost all questions of practical value is steadily increasing.

Ethel Stont, aged 11, runs a quarter temperature paper, called the Midget, in Oshkosh, sets a great deal of the matter and edits it all. Her father is a newspaper man.

A favorite way of bringing last year's jacket up to date seems to be add a velvet shoulder cape to it.

Eighteen hundred girls were graduated from the Boston Cooking school last year.

Black and white, in all combinations, will be in style for the coming season.

Mrs. Astor is said to never pay less than $25 for a pair of shoes.

WINDY JACK'S STORY.

"This er's der way ter pickum," said "Windy" Jack, as he stepped away from the cashier's window and tucked a good-sized roll of bills into his waist-coat pocket.

"How do you do it?" asked a bystander who chanced to hear the remark.

"Oh, easy 'nuff," said Jack, as he bit off the end of a cigar the other handed him and shortly struck a match on his boot heel. "I look 'round till I find er fell'er er knows or cow from er elevated railroad an' let him tell me. I've been follerin' it up for der las' two mont's, 'n' I kee' hold on ter it fer er mudder t'ree. I'll have er bank roll dat yer can't reach round wid er telegraph wire."

"Well, but that kind of information is not so easy to obtain."

"Now, dat's jest where yer coppered der quees er fer sur miss. Not so easy, is it? Well, I guess not, also. Say, Sport, 'Fyer don't mind er little weet' inside, jest come 'round ter Sheeshan's, an' I'll 'blow' der 'yarn' ter fer der fer fun er ter ting."

Acting upon this suggestion the two were soon pleasantly seated at Sheehan's.

"Let er set right dere, Jimmie, 'll we git tra," said Jack to the waiter, as he tucked a bill partially under a match safe that sat upon the table. "I don't reckon we're goin' ter drown er five spot at dis school mootin', and when we git tra der change is yorn, so keep er eye on der 'clinkers' an' let em come fast in der 'stretch.'

"Yer see, tings want lookin' well wit me at der time, an' when I says dat, yer knows what it means. It means dat I was skatin' along on der little edge or nothin', an' dat's nair tight any kind er wedder, an' dead sure it ain't in der winter when yer breath gits froze and drops in lumps on der sidewalk, is it? Not much, Taint."

"Well, dis was 'bout der way it was comin' ter me at der time. I didn't git none'n half'er 'nuff ter eat, an' was carrin' der banner four er five nights in der week, an' when I did git er lodgin', it was alway bett'rer er couple er trampin' or layin' down-town lodgings."
